

About Nishimura & Asahi in Germany

In 2020, Nishimura & Asahi opened offices in Europe, the first leading Japanese law firm to do so. From our European head office in Frankfurt, Germany, we advise clients in all essential areas of commercial law, often in close cooperation with leading European law firms.

For our office in Frankfurt, Germany, we are hiring

Legal Trainees (Rechtsreferendare) and Research Assistants (Wissenschaftliche Mitarbeiter) (m/f/d)

You can apply at any time for a position as a legal trainee or for work as a research assistant. As a fully-fledged team member, you will be given a comprehensive and authentic insight into our daily work routine. The ability to communicate in Japanese is beneficial, but not required.

We will be happy to discuss the time and date of your employment with you individually. In your application, please indicate your preferred duration and your practice group preference(s) or desired focus area (Schwerpunktbereich).

We look forward to your application, preferably via email, to:
